The Senate has finally acquitted Trump in what has been dubbed: Trump Impeachment, Season 2.

> But the 57-43 vote marked the first time since 1868 that a majority of the Senate voted to convict a president on an impeachment charge. And the seven Republicans who broke ranks are the most to support the conviction of a president from their own party. When the gavel fell, Republican Sens. Burr, Lisa Murkowski of Alaska, Ben Sasse of Nebraska, Pat Toomey of Pennsylvania, Bill Cassidy of Louisiana, Susan Collins of Maine and Mitt Romney of Utah joined all Democrats in voting to convict Trump on the House's single impeachment article.

The Senate fell short of the necessary two-thirds majority necessary to convict Trump, which is no surprise. Now, the Democrats can actually get down doing what really needs to be done which is passing Covid checks so Americans don't starve. Or, they could do some more tax cuts for the rich, corporate bailouts and ramp up the wars abroad. Some semblance of economic FDR-ism is needed, especially if the left doesn't want to see a red wave in the 2022 midterms.
